

Want to host a Fragile Dialogue event? We're here for you!

CCAR has created a program for events at congregations, schools, libraries, and Jewish Community Centers, exploring the many lenses through which the Jewish community approaches Zionism, not only set apart by political differences but also by geographical diversity, religious divisiveness, socio-economic policies, gender issues, the use and abuse of power, and more.

The Fragile Dialogue: New Voices in Liberal Zionism, a forthcoming publication by CCAR Press, wrestles with and attempts to frame the very fragile dialogue surrounding Zionism and Israel in the 21st-century Progressive Jewish community

Here are ways we can work together:

- 1. Finding the right program for your community: Here at the CCAR, we know that each community is unique. Together we can think of the best program to fit your needs. We often suggest a panel discussion featuring 3-4 panelists and a moderator.
- 2. Contacting prospective panelists: CCAR will suggest a list of panelists, contributors to The Fragile Dialogue, and other prominent figures in Jewish life who reside in your area. You can also use local rabbis in your community and/or pay to bring in the co-editors of the book, Rabbi Stanley M. Davids and Rabbi Lawrence A. Englander, as well as other influential leaders and thinkers in the American-Israeli arena.
- 3. Promoting the event: Let us help you spread the word! We can share visuals that we have of the book and related themes, and help you design promotional materials, including flyers, memes, and short videos. We will then post them on our website, social media pages, and share the information with CCAR members residing in your area. See sample promotional materials and photos from past events here.
- 4. Selling discounted books: CCAR Press will ship copies of The Fragile Dialogue to you for a 40% discount, plus shipping. You can sell the books at the event as a fundraiser for the retail price and keep the difference.

So let's get started!

The Fragile Dialogue is a must read book for all those thinking, discussing, and debating Israel. Bridging generational and ideological gaps, this compilation of essays and thought pieces offers many important perspectives that are both challenging and inspiring. At this critical moment in time, the North American Jewish community has a unique opportunity to renew our positions, dig deeper, and use these texts as basis for our conversations, dialogues, and discussions.

—Rabbi Josh Weinberg, President of ARZA and contributor to The Fragile Dialogue
