The opening words of this passage are from Numbers 24:5 where they are recited by Balaam, the foreign prophet who was commissioned to curse the children of Israel. When he opened his mouth, blessings emerged instead of curses.

As for me, may my prayer come to You, Adonai, at a favorable time. O God, in Your abundant faithfulness, answer me with Your sure deliverance.

When you see the synagogue from a distance, say, “How fair are your tents, O Jacob, your dwellings, O Israel.”

Upon arriving at the synagogue door, stop momentarily to arrange your clothes properly, and say, “I, through Your abundant love, enter Your house.”

Then enter with dignity and awe, bowing slightly toward the holy ark, and say, “I bow down in awe at Your holy temple. Adonai, I love Your temple abode, the dwelling-place of Your glory.”

Then walk in a bit, and, bowing again, say, “I will humbly bow down low before Adonai, my Maker.”

Then leave some charity for the poor — as much as you can afford — and, concentrating within yourself, say, “Here I stand, ready and willing to perform the commandment, ‘Love your neighbor as yourself.’” Then you may pursue the love of God.

May the One whose spirit is with us in every righteous deed, be with all who work for the good of humanity and bear the burdens of others, and who give bread to the hungry, who clothe the naked, and take the friendless into their homes. May the work of their hands endure, and may the seed they sow bring abundant harvest.
