

Contents

Introduction	ix
Note about Translations	xii
Acknowledgments	xiii
Day One: Light and Darkness	1
1. Cosmic Disorder Rabbi Oren J. Hayon	3
2. Creation: Responsibility, Blessing, and Sanctity Rabbi Dr. Yehoyada Amir	9
3. “In the Beginning” of BT B’rachot : Another Creation Alyssa M. Gray, JD, PhD	16
4. Creating Worlds One Day at a Time Cantor Amanda Kleinman	24
5. The Why and the How of Creation: Harmonizing Genesis and the Big Bang Rabbi Geoffrey A. Mitelman	30
6. Light and Darkness: The Human Condition in Buddhist and Muslim Texts Rabbi Joshua M. Z. Stanton	37
Day Two: Sky and Water	45
7. The Second Day: A Pilot’s Perspective Rabbi Aaron Panken, PhD	47
8. Holding the Waters at Bay Rabbi Mira Beth Wasserman, PhD	53
9. Separating the Waters Rabbi Kinneret Shiryon, DD	60
10. The Night Sky Rabbi Scott M. Nagel	65

11. Water Conservation as Biblical Imperative Rabbi Kevin M. Kleinman	71
12. What If?: The Sacred Potential of Water Shaina Herring and Rabbi Sara Luria	78
Day Three: Land and Vegetation	83
13. The Holiness of Wild Places Rabbi Jamie Korngold	85
14. The Jewish Imperative of Healing the Land Alex Cicelsky	91
15. Why We Must Teach Our Children to Care for All Living Creatures Rabbi Rayna Gevurtz	105
16. Bal Tashchit : God's First and Most General Call Rabbi Fred Scherlinder Dobb, DMin	112
17. The Third Day and Our Oceans Liya Rechtman	122
18. From the Third Day to the Song of Songs: The Eco-Torah of an Indigenous People Rabbi Arthur Waskow	128
Day Four: Times and Seasons	137
19. If Not Now, Why?: Celebrating the Festivals at Their Set Times Rabbi Jill L. Maderer	139
20. A Light for the Nations Rabbi Denise L. Eger	145
21. The Physics of Jewish Time and the Fourth Day of Creation Loui Dobin	153
22. Diaspora Time Rabbi Michael G. Holzman	160
23. Separate, Mark, and Season—Just Don't Yawn: The Lesson of the Fourth Day of Creation Rabbi Edwin Cole Goldberg, DHL	169

24. Music and the Punctuation of Time Cantor Ellen Dreskin	178
Day Five: Animals of Land and Water	185
25. Global Swarming: Can We Become Worthy of Creation? Rabbi Matthew Soffer	187
26. Reading Sacred (Con)Texts Today: Historical Background, Modern Interpretations Rabbi Rifat Sonsino, PhD	195
27. The Animal Kingdom Rabbi Dr. Shmuly Yanklowitz	202
28. Creation as Intimate Partner Rabbi Mike Comins	208
29. Creation: An All-You-Can-Eat Buffet Rabbi Mary L. Zamore	217
30. Forging a Path Back to the Garden: A New Kashrut for Today Rabbi Karen Deitsch	224
Day Six: People	231
31. Finding Meaning as God’s Servant: Consulting the Design Specs for Humankind Rabbi David E. S. Stein	233
32. In the Image of God: God Is the Queer Role Model I Always Wanted Rabbi Rachel Grant Meyer	242
33. Male and Female God Created Them: The Everyday Life of the Creation Myth in Israeli Society Rabbi Noa Sattath	247
34. Created in God’s Image: Protecting Even the Least Deserving of Protection Rabbi Jill Jacobs	253
35. The World As It Is Rabbi Dr. Rachel S. Mikva	261

36. Paradise on Earth Dr. Rachel Havrelock	267
Shabbat	277
37. What a Group of Cloistered Nuns Taught Me About Shabbat Rabbi Shoshanah Conover	279
38. Determining the Path Ourselves: What Might Shabbat Look Like for Us? Rabbi Jack P. Paskoff	285
39. The Loneliness of Time: What We Can Learn from That First Shabbat Rabbi Richard F. Address	290
40. Shabbat and Parenting Rabbi Benjamin David	296
41. Shabbat and Social Justice Rabbi Jonah Dov Pesner	301
42. Shabbat and Workers' Rights Rabbi Ellen Lippmann	307
Contributors	315